

THE GOLDEN TEMPLE OF AMRITSAR

Gillette
8

² ^{THE} WIDE - WIDE - WORLD * NATIVE LIFE IN INDIA. Series IV.

Rapphael Tuck & Sons' "Oilette"

ART PUBLISHERS TO THEIR MAJESTIES THE KING & QUEEN.

[Regd.] Postcard 9311.

By Appointment.

Amritsar is an important commercial city, capital of the province of the same name in the Punjab. It was founded in 1574 by Gura Ram Das, who excavated a sacred tank, which gives the city its name ("Pool of Immortality"). In the midst of this lake is the famous golden temple or "Burbar Sahib," the chief temple of the Sikhs, where are stored all writings, weapons and other relics of the old Sikh Guris or prophets.

Printed in England.

LLIG447

TUCK'S POST CARD

CARTE POSTALE.

POSTKARTE.

(FOR ADDRESS ONLY.)

CTPA12.7

THE GOLDEN TEMPLE OF AMRITSAR.

Gillett
© 1951

WIDE - WIDE - WORLD NATIVE LIFE IN INDIA. Series IV.

Raphael Tuck & Sons' "Oilette"

ART PUBLISHERS TO THEIR MAJESTIES THE KING & QUEEN.
[Regd.] Postcard 9311.

By Appointment.

Amritsar is an important commercial city, capital of the province of the same name in the Punjab. It was founded in 1574 by Gura Ram Das, who excavated a sacred tank, which gives the city its name ("Pool of Immortality"). In the midst of this lake is the famous golden temple or "Burbar Sahib," the chief temple of the Sikhs, where are stored all writings, weapons and other relics of the old Sikh Guris or prophets.

Printed in England.

LL10447

TUCK'S POST CARD

CARTE POSTALE.

POSTKARTE.

(FOR ADDRESS ONLY.).

